PALAU DE CONGRESSOS DE BARCELONA
The Barcelona Congress Centre has positioned itself as the preferred venue of international firms and organizations looking for a large, versatile and central space in which to hold their events in the Catalan Capital. The 1,609-seat auditorium, 5,600 sqm of multipurpose space, 10 break-out rooms and an impressive terrace with stunning views over the Magic Fountains of Montjuïc and their legendary show of water, light and music are the most distinguishing features of this historical venue.

The original building was created for Barcelona’s International Exhibition in 1929 and housed the Projection Palace. In the 1960s it was converted into the Palace of Nations and in the 1990s it was remodelled to create the Congress Centre.
Built in 1929 to house the Barcelona International Exhibition, the Fira Montjuïc venue has become a part of Barcelona’s very identity. It is also a driver of economic, corporate and social progress that has promoted the city’s heritage in Europe and abroad as an important trade-fair hub.

The site includes six pavilions and a conference centre that line up Avinguda de la Reina Maria Cristina, an avenue surrounded by landscaped gardens that leads up to the slopes of Mount Montjuïc. It ends at the Magical Fountain and the Palau Nacional (which today houses the National Art Museum of Catalonia, MNAC), both of which were also built for the 1929 International Exhibition.

The pavilions combine age-old tradition with state-of-the-art facilities and the infrastructure required for any event.
